Effort at Revision of Neutrality Law Certain: Roosevelt

Decision on Changes to Be Asked Will Come After Conference

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asserted again today that undoubtedly there would be some effort made to revise the neutrality act.

A final decision on the matter, he told his press conference, would be reached only after a bipartisan conference next Tuesday with senate leaders.

On the issue of arming American merchant vessels, now forbidden by the law, the president said in response to a question that he considered the statute so definite on this point that it would not be right for him to try to wiggle out from the definite policy of congress.

He said, too, that he had given no thought to revising present delineations of combat zones by presidential order.

The chief executive indicated that he believed the whole neutrality law problem could be threshed out at Tuesday's conference.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders will be asked to the White House for it and Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the house foreign affairs committee will be asked to sit in as an observer.

Reporters reminded the president that Senator Pepper (D-Fla) had proposed that the chief executive, by proclamation, revoke his action setting up combat zones. When asked whether Pepper's statement was made with his acquaintance, Roosevelt said he never had heard of the matter.

The neutrality law now forbids American ships to enter zones prescribed by the chief executive.

Decisions Up to F. D. R.
Warning reporters not to try to construe his remarks, since sometimes constructions were erroneous, the president went into an extensive discussion of what constitutes a danger zone.

He asked whether an area in the sea where one ship out of 500 was sunk was a danger zone, or whether an area where five out of a 500 or another where 10 out of 500 vessels were sunk constituted danger zones. He did not answer those inquiries himself, remarking that the law mentioned no percentages as a guide. Last week the crew of a vessel wanted a bonus for going to the West Indies, he said. They claimed it was a danger zone, he added, although actually there had been no sinkings there.

The ultimate decision on outlining a combat zone, Roosevelt asserted, falls on him, yet is always provides something of a question. It is similar to the old question of the effectiveness of a

Union Official Is Killed Following Unusual Argument

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Salvatore Sabatino, wealthy vice president of a stevedoring company who was sought in connection with the slaying yesterday of union labor leader Emil Camarda, surrendered today in the office of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

Camarda, 56, general vice-president for the Atlantic coast district of the International Longshoremen's Association (A. F. L.), was shot and killed in Sabatino's private offices during a quarrel over the number of Irish employees in Sabatino's work crews.

The company executive disappeared immediately and police began an exhaustive search.

No charges were filed immediately against him.

Report Earlier Clash
Police Captain Edward Mullins said he learned Sabatino had clashed earlier with Peter Burke, member of Camarda's union, at a United States compensation board hearing at which an employee, identified only as Anderson, had received an award against Sabatino's firm.

Late yesterday afternoon Camarda asked Sabatino to employ a friend and an argument started. "Why do you put all those Irish to work?" police quoted Sabatino as demanding. "Why can't you make room for some Italians?"

During the quarrel, Mullins said, Sabatino went to Paymaster Edward Flery of his firm and asked for a pistol, explaining he wanted "to shoot a fellow by the name of Burke."

Returning to his office, Sabatino resumed the quarrel. Mullins said, and a few seconds later, drew a pistol, firing four shots, of which three struck the union leader.

Appreciation

Lincoln, Ill., Oct. 3.—(AP)—An "appreciate America" extra edition of the Lincoln Evening Courier called attention to National Newspaper Week by devoting eight pages to an imaginary invasion and the suppression of freedom of the press.

Two hours after the regular edition had been distributed, carriers distributed to local subscribers the account in a humorous vein of absurd orders supposedly issued by an invading dictator. News photographs carried captions describing tyranny and advertisers cooperated.

"Lincoln's reaction was two-fold: 'I'm glad it isn't so,' and 'it makes one appreciate America,'" said Ailyn V. Nugent, the publisher, today.

Water Famine in Forreston Due to Careless Driving

The city of Forreston experienced a water famine yesterday from 2 a. m. until 5 p. m. due to the carelessness of an automobile driver, who was reported to have backed his car into a hydrant one block from the city pumping station Wednesday night about 11 o'clock, snapping a main.

The stand pipe which holds the emergency supply of water was drained as a geyser formed at the point of the break where thousands of gallons of water poured forth.

A trail of gasoline, running from a punctured tank on the offending car was followed by Mayor Joseph Maas and his son, Joe, who is night watchman, and about a mile west of Forreston, the trail stopped at a stalled car occupied by two men and a woman from Baileyville. Wilford Franks, driver of the car was arrested and taken back to Forreston where he was locked up until yesterday afternoon, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs.

Franks' employer, and owner of the car, a foreman of a welding crew working for the Illinois Central at Baileyville, posted a bond of $100 to cover the damage caused in replacing the broken water main.

Two cheese factories, business places and many homes were without water for 15 hours until the broken main could be dug up and a new section of pipe placed.

Charges Hitler Inspires Uprisings in Europe to Sift Out Challengers

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Adolph Hitler has inspired the uprisings in conquered European countries in order to sift out potential challengers to Nazi domination of Europe, Gregor Ziemer, former dean of the American School in Berlin, told the annual banquet of the Mississippi Valley Medical society here last night.

The speaker told of Hitler's method for rehabilitating wounded. "Those with wounded arms," he said, "are flown back to Leipzig, wounded legs to Berlin, and other types of wounds to other cities."

"Only those considered to have a good chance for additional service to the state are flown back. The rest are left at the front to die."

Retired Supreme Court Justice Is Gravely Ill

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Retired Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the Supreme Court was reported seriously ill today after a heart attack Wednesday.

Justice Brandeis, now 84 years old, retired from active service on the court February 13, 1939. He was appointed by President Wilson and served 23 years on the tribunal, retiring voluntarily under the court pension act.

Former Head of Illinois G. O. P. Is Busy Man at Arsenal; Has 19 Titles

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Major A. K. Stiles of Sycamore, former Republican state chairman, is a man of 19 titles at the Rock Island arsenal.

Stiles quit politics just a year ago to go on active duty at the arsenal as a reserve officer. He was assigned public relations officer, post intelligence officer and assistant to the commanding general on employment.

The major became a jack-of-all-trades this week when Lieut. Col. Paul L. Deylitz of the ordnance department was given a leave of absence until Jan. 1 because of illness.

Brig. Gen. Norman F. Ramsey, the head man at the busy arsenal, then gave 16 more jobs to Stiles. The man who once managed Illinois political campaigns is now the arsenal Adjutant. He also is mess officer in charge of Cafeteria, Officer in Charge of Garage,

Congressman Allen Honored at Dinner Here Thursday Eve

Republicans From 13th District Gather To Pay Their Tribute

More than 400 Republicans from throughout the Thirteenth Congressional district disregarded inclement weather last evening and came to Dixon to attend the testimonial dinner and program tendered Congressman Leo E. Allen of Galena by the Lee County Republican Masonic Temple where the large crowd filled the dining hall. About 200 were unable to attend because of the limited reservations.

During the serving three talented Dixon young people provided a program of musical and vocal selections which were enthusiastically applauded. The youthful artists were Winston Atkins, marimba and chimes soloist; Miss Marjorie Horner, pianist and Miss Arlene Gordon, vocalist.

Mrs. Louis Grampp, chairman of the host group, presented Henry C. Warner, chairman of the Lee County Republican Central committee, who presided as toastmaster during the evening.

Mayor Extends Welcome
Mayor William V. Slothower welcomed the representatives of the Republican party of the Thirteenth Congressional district and the guest of honor, Congressman Leo Allen.

In his address of response Congressman Allen pleaded for the retention of the American principals of government upon which this nation has attained its position in the world.

"Let us continue to build our own republic in unity, liberty and equality and not police the world and after the close of the present war to police it again," he said.

Lindbergh Speaks to Select Crowd

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh will speak to a select audience here tonight under police protection.

His address under sponsorship of the America First Committee in the Gospel Temple, seating 4,000 will be broadcast (NBC Blue, 8:30 p. m., Central Standard time). Senator D. Worth Clark (D-Idaho) also will speak.

Verma Sessler, secretary of the committee's Fort Wayne chapter, said admission would be by ticket only.

Police Chief Jule Stumpf disclosed a special force would be on duty at the hall. Three policemen escorted Lindbergh from the Municipal airport to his hotel last night.

C. M. Grabner, chairman of the Fort Wayne Industrial Union Council (CIO), made public yesterday a resolution of the council's executive board which said, "we condemn the invitation to Lindbergh to speak in our city and we equally condemn the action of Mayor Harry W. Baals in sharing in this meeting". Baals will introduce Lindbergh.

Lindbergh has drawn criticism for his recent speech in Des Moines, Ia., in which he said the British, the Jews and the Roosevelt administration sought to involve the United States in war.

RADIO NOT STOLEN

Scotts Bluff, Neb., Oct. 3.—(AP)—When a housewife called to report a radio had been stolen, police queried her husband at his place of business and he retorted: "It's not stolen. I've got it down here listening to the series."

Repatriation

New Haven, Eng., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The war stopped here today.

Inside the bright green harbor of this little town two glistening white ships lay anchored ready to take 1,500 wounded German prisoners across 60 miles of water, beginning the first exchange of prisoners between England and Germany in this war.

While the exchange is being made, the two-year-old war will stop in the air and on the sea in this section of the channel.

Both ships were formerly channel boats that logically might have carried some of these same men on peaceful holidays in years past.

The ships will sail at dawn tomorrow to pick up 1,500 wounded Britons at Dieppe, France, across the channel and return here to complete the repatriation.

Roosevelt Sounds Out Russia About Religious Freedom

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he had instructed W. Averell Harriman, head of America's mission to Russia to take up in Moscow the question of religious freedom in Russia.

The chief executive told a press conference that the question also had been taken up previously with the Russian government, leaving the impression that this had been done through Lawrence Steinhardt, the United States ambassador.

He said he had received no report from Harriman and could not say until he did get one whether he thought the overtures would result in some success.

F. D. R. Urged to Act

Roosevelt was urged in a high Catholic quarter today to take a direct hand in influencing soviet Russia to grant full religious freedom, now that he feels that an "entering wedge" for such an eventuality is "definitely on its way".

The Reverend Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., vice president of Georgetown University, said "the events of the last 24 hours convince me that the hour has come for a definite and constructive move on the part of the president of the United States."

After Roosevelt, at his Tuesday press conference, had described the Russian constitution's religious guarantees as essentially the same as ours, Father Walsh had quickly declared that provision of the Russian constitution was "nothing but a hollow shell."

Poor Physical Condition of U. S. People Prompts FDR to Order a Survey

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Declaring that the physical condition of the American people was rather alarming as disclosed by examination of selectees, President Roosevelt asserted today he was so worried about the problem that he had ordered a survey made.

He said he would try to have ready for his next press conference next Tuesday what he called some of the amazing and disturbing figures on the health of the people as shown by a breakdown of the percentage of selectees turned down because of poor physical condition.

Some data already is available. Col. Leonard G. Rowntree, chief of the Selective Service system's medical division, discussing the need of a nation wide health improvement drive, has reported that preliminary reports showed that only about half those called were physically and mentally fit for general military service.

Asked whether the survey now being made took into account relatively high physical requirements for selectees, Mr. Roosevelt said these standards were high in some respects but in others were a good deal lower than in normal times.

Petain Intervenes To Save Life of Colette

Vichy, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Marshal Petain intervened today to save the life of Paul Colette, under death sentence for the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval and Marcel Deat.

The young Norman's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Colette, who was sentenced to die by a special French court in Paris Wednesday, was saved from the guillotine at the last minute at the urgent request of Laval and Deat themselves. They were gravely wounded in the attempt on their lives, which was made Aug. 28 at a public ceremony.

Colette yesterday had appealed for clemency to Marshal Petain, the only man who could save him.

Mayor of Prague Is Condemned to Death by Court

Berlin Says Klapka Is Guilty of Plot For Rebellion

(By The Associated Press)

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The mayor of Prague, Otakar Klapka, has been condemned to death by the people's court on charges of plotting rebellion, apparently in a conspiracy with the condemned premier of the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate, General Alois Elias, Dienst aus Deutschland reported today.

This agency, with close official connections, quoted Prague sources saying that Elias had drawn Klapka into a plot.

Elias, also under sentence of death, has taken the only possible appeal from its verdict—to Adolf Hitler himself.

Klapka, in turn, was accused of recruiting other municipal officials for action against the German administration in the protectorate.

German secret police continued their sweeping investigation into alleged rebellious activities in Bohemia-Moravia following the execution of more Czechs convicted by nazi courts on charges of high treason, economic sabotage and illegal possession of weapons.

Firing Squads Busy

Dispatches from Prague and Brno said that German firing squads were busy in both cities again last night, but there was no official information on the exact number of executions carried out to date.

Advices yesterday indicated that death sentences had been imposed upon 130 persons. It was not clear, however, how many of those had been executed and it was possible that those shot last night were among the 130 listed previously as convicted.

None of the latest to die was identified here by name, but DNB said some were Jews.

The German radio, quoting competent Prague sources, named 13 editors and retired army officers among others it said were put to death in the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate Wednesday. The broadcast was heard in New York.)

Uncle Sam to Borrow Over Billion in Week

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The treasury announced today it expects to borrow between $1,000,000,000 and $1,250,000,000 next week to pay current defense costs.

A treasury spokesman said the borrowing would be undertaken with the usual precaution that unexpected international developments, which might disturb financial markets, might force a postponement.

The borrowing will be the largest cash financing of the treasury at least since the $1,106,000,000 borrowed in 1936 to pay the soldiers' bonus, and may turn out to be the largest since the Liberty Loan drives of the World War era.

Reds Hopelessly Stricken, Hitler Tells His People

"Gigantic" New Development Reported

(By The Associated Press)

Berlin, Oct. 3.—Adolf Hitler, home from the Russian front to launch Germany's ninth winter relief campaign, declared today that Russia had been so stricken she "never again will rise up" and that "a gigantic new development" has opened on the front in the last 48 hours.

That development, he said, had made it especially difficult for him to leave his field headquarters.

"The decision now being fought out is for the next 100 years," he shouted. Thunderous cheers of the thousands assembled in the Sportsplatz greeted this.

The fuhrer declared that Germany before the war had sought particularly to reach a settlement with Britain but that Prime Minister Churchill had asked for war; that Russia had failed to live up to her nonaggression pact with Germany and had mobilized on the reich's borders.

"By August and September of last year it became clear that I had an enemy at the back ready to stab at any time," Hitler said.

He said that Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov had come to Berlin late in 1940, seeking a commitment from Germany on Rumania and Finland. Hitler said he had "declined all Russian suggestions that the U. S. S. R. extend her influence westward, including the Dardanelles."

The address lasted 65 minutes.

"According to Plan"

The fuhrer asserted that everything had proceeded according to plan since June 22, when the German armies struck into Russia.

He said that he had painfully kept his silence for months while he knew that Russia, as he said,

Hunt for Defense Stamps Goes Over

Because of last night's soaking rain, which prevented full participation in the fall-opening defense stamp contest which Dixon merchants had planned—in which about $300 worth of these stamps were to have been given away—the contest has been kept open until midnight Saturday.

All stamps, which were concealed in the windows of participating stores last night, will be placed in the same windows again Saturday night, and the contest will then go on under the same rules. Entries must be turned into the Chamber of Commerce office by 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, and names of winners will be published in Wednesday evening's Telegraph.

Those who completed their surveys of the windows last night and have turned in their blanks at the Chamber of Commerce, are given the privilege of calling for their reports and making new surveys and returns, or any changes they may desire.

Walter Knack, president of the Chamber of Commerce today suggested windows of participating stores being kept lighted until midnight tonight and Saturday to provide longer time for contestants to make their surveys.

King of Devil's Tower Ordered to Stay on His Throne Until Rescued

Sundance, Wyo., Oct. 3.—George Hopkins, wise-cracking daredevil from Rapid City, S. D., still was king of the mountain today atop sky-spear Devil's Tower, and he had official orders not to abandon his throne until he is rescued by experienced Alpinists.

The 30-year-old former RAF parachute instructor spent a second night on his tight little island a quarter of a mile in the Wyoming sky last night, this time in royal style.

He had an army field tent, heavy blankets, a packaged dinner and a pair of sneakers for the descent, which were dropped with other provisions late yesterday by Clyde Ice, Spearfish, S. D., flyer.

Skimming the flat top of the cold and windy pinnacle, Ice tossed 13 packages out of his plane and scored 13 bull's-eyes.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

There is a peculiar interest for America in the announcement made in the British House of Commons yesterday by Home Secretary Morrison that the suspended Communist organ, The Daily Worker, won't be allowed to resume publication because "in the view of the government the Communist party is not loyal to this country."

Surely it wasn't mere coincidence that simultaneously the great Conservative party of Britain in conference gave Prime Minister Churchill a unanimous vote of confidence, based on his decision to back Russia by all means as an ally. Sir Cuthbert

Lowest Estimate

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler told the German nation today that:

"The decision now being fought out is for the next one hundred years."

On May 10, 1940, the day of the invasion of the low countries, he declared:

"The fight beginning today decides the fate of the German nation for the next one thousand years."

Headlam, who made the motion, said:

"We should realize that the Russians are fighting in a most heroic manner for their country, for the defense of holy Russia, and not in defense of Marxian doctrines."

In these two events we have England's method of declaring its position toward Communism. The government won't relax its battle against this jam. At the same time England will keep its bond to stand solidly beside Russia as an ally in the war against Hitler.

One encounters many evidences of growing anxiety and puzzlement in this country as to whether our pledge of all possible aid to the soviet in the conflict with Hitlerism is likely in any way to soften public opposition to the Communism which doesn't represent the American way of life. The concern and perplexity have been increased by the heated discussion of the position of religious rights in the soviet union.

We are told that the soviet constitution provides for religious freedom. That is true. It is equally true that the Communist party—the only one in Russia—has carried on a persistent and fierce anti-religious campaign which has been calculated to nullify in effect the constitutional right.

Just after the new constitution was adopted in December of 1936, The Communist party launched a fresh and militant drive on the church. After a campaign in lesser journals demanding a revival of anti-religious propaganda and a program to counteract church influence, the party, through its principal organ, Pravda, laid down the lines of procedure.

"Anti-religious propaganda has lagged in recent years," said Pravda. "Under Stalin's new party slogan of 'Bolshevism Must Master Bolshevism' it must be revived."

The campaign was accompanied by a stern party warning to avoid excesses. The line to be followed was to uproot the church through education rather than to try to drag it out by force. Pravda admonished:

"Religion must not be fought by administrative methods. Churches should not be closed without con-

Fuehrer Admits Mistake as to Reds' Force

By The Associated Press

Reichsmuehrer Adolf Hitler, returning to Berlin from the eastern front, told the German nation today that a "gigantic new development" which began in the last 48 hours in the Russian campaign would "smash the opponent in the east . . . and help to reach victory."

The nazi fuhrer, asserting that Russia had already been beaten, charged the U. S. S. R. with preparing to attack Germany if he had not struck first.

He conceded, however, that "we made a mistake about one thing: We did not know how gigantic the preparations of this opponent against Germany had been."

With this admission of the ferocity of soviet resistance, Hitler coupled a declaration that "the decision now being fought out is for the next hundred years."

In past speeches he has said Germany's campaigns would settle the world history "for the next 1,000 years."

The fuhrer said German armies had captured about 2,500,000 prisoners so far, 22,000 guns, 18,000 tanks. About 15,500 soviet warplanes, he said, had been destroyed.

Reds Claim Successes

Even as Hitler spoke, addressing 25,000 cheering nazis in the Berlin Sportsplatz, the Russians reported their Red armies had smashed the Germans back nearly 30 miles in one direction on the Leningrad front, overrun nazi siege trenches around the old czarist capital, and inflicted more than 8,700 casualties from the Gulf of Finland to the Black sea.

Aside from the 30-mile setback for the Germans east of Leningrad, soviet dispatches said Russian troops had advanced from one to two miles in counterattacks at other approaches to the city.

Red Star, the soviet army newspaper, said Russian forces had stormed across the river "V" on the Leningrad front after a 10-day battle.

Man's Failure to Act as Son of God Stands as World's Greatest Tragedy

Text: Genesis 1:26-28; Matthew 6:24-33.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The foundation of a great religion was laid when men dared to conceive of himself as made in the image and likeness of the God who made him. Here was spiritual insight, clear, true, and sound, the full significance of which we can appreciate when contrast we see the type of religion that had man cowering before the forces of nature, or bowing down to grotesque idols.

The writer of Genesis saw man in God's image, with dominion over lesser creatures and with dominion over his world. It is this view of man that is amply demonstrated throughout the centuries of human history. Man, like God the Creator, is himself creator.

He has conquered seas and oceans; he has bridged great rivers and chasms; he has ascended high mountains and delved far into the depths of the earth. We see man, in spite of the short span of human life and the limitations of human weakness, as exercising dominion.

On the other side of the picture, we see men with his great capacity and high estate, spurning his nobility and power to act more like a devil than like the good God who made him, and even perverting his great powers and capacities at their highest to evil and destructive ends.

It is man in these two capacities or characters, and man with the power of choice, that is set before us in the second portion of our lesson from the words of Jesus. The quality of human life, Jesus says, depends upon choice, and there are masters in rivalry for human choice that are utterly at variance.

No man can serve two masters. This was the distinctive message of Jesus—that true life and true religion were based upon commanding will and decision, by which a man gave himself and all that he had wholeheartedly and unreservedly to the side of right and love and truth. Anything less than this means crucial shortcoming and weakness. If lives fail to measure up to this standard, it is to the loss of those lives. The standard of Christian living is always commanding and exacting.

God who created man is on the side of man to help and strengthen him. Man who has consecrated his life to God may live a life of faith above fear and anxiety. To seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness is to establish all of life upon a sound and unshakable foundation.

It is the tragedy of our times that God-like man should choose to make himself so devil-like, ruining and destroying where the whole purpose of God and of man at his best is to create and build.

Can we restore to man the vision of himself as the privileged child of God? The Bible is a great revelation of what man and humanity could be, if men fulfilled the character and destiny for which God made them.

The morning worship service is combined with the Sunday school hour. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental music and suitable readings, following the regular Sunday school lesson period. # Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valves in head aircraft engines for defense use.

It was no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said—these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car—certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One we could be proud of. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are! You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnaught Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN 'FORTY-TWO

A Thought For Today

I will sing unto the Lord, because he hath dealt bountifully with me.—Psalms 136.

There is a God with us, and we glow when He stirs us.—Ovid.

A Successful Man Meets Death

When a really successful life ends, the sense of completion, fulfillment, dulls the edge of grief.

And what is a successful life? Surely it is not always to have made a great deal of money, though that spells success to some. Surely it is not merely to have exercised great power, nor to have attained great fame, though to some those things are success. Often the man who has made the money would give it all for a little fame, and the one who basked in the limelight of the great wishes at the end he had been comfortably obscure.

No success is perhaps simply to have done what one wanted to do, to have achieved roughly what one wanted to achieve.

Chief Many Rains, a full-blooded Sioux Indian, was known to his associates on the New York police force as Patrolman James Alvin Schowers. He was killed a short time ago in the performance of his duty, and to his funeral came many of those who had known him on his beat in Harlem, many also who knew him long ago, and who attended the funeral in the feather head-dress of the Sioux tribesmen.

At the funeral they read a letter. Schowers, or Many Rains, had written it three years ago and stipulated that he wanted it read at his funeral. It began:

"It is with deepest regret that I leave behind the department that I loved since I was a little boy. But I also leave you with a joy no one will ever know, and that is being a member of the finest police department in the world."

Chief Many Rains was 40 years old when he was killed. How was the little Indian boy drawn to the New York police department? Somehow he must have seen a reflection in pictures, or in personal contact with that fine body of men, of the virtues his own fathers had taught the young tribesmen.

So he wanted to be a policeman, and nothing would do but to be "a member of the finest police department in the world." He made it, and he passed his life thus. And when he died they read at his funeral his letter. It closed:

"I have been looking forward to the day when I could go on to the Happy Hunting Grounds of my ancestors, to live in peace always."

There were tears in the faces of the tribesmen

at the funeral, and tears also in the faces of the men and women of Harlem who had known Patrolman Schowers.

Shall anyone say this was not a successful life? Shall America not be proud of a true native son who knew how to live and how to die?

Kill It or Enforce It

One of two things can be done rationally with the neutrality act—or what is left of it.

It can be enforced vigorously, as congress has authority to do, or it can be killed outright, as congress may do if it wishes.

This country once had a prohibition law backed by a constitutional amendment. Both the Volstead act and the amendment were killed on the grounds that they did not represent the will of a majority of the people.

We now have a neutrality act which, if enforced, would prevent the United States from intervening in the European war. It is said 80 per cent of the people are opposed to intervention.

But unlike the prohibition law, the neutrality act does not face repeal because a majority of the people are campaigning against it. Only a minority has taken the lead for repeal. We have seen no active campaigning by common people against the neutrality act. We have seen no parades of outraged citizens demanding repeal of this law. Only a few are opposed to it, but it is in serious danger. It is in danger largely because the president of the United States who is sworn to uphold that law, has done much to nullify it.

Under the circumstances congress should either take the initiative and see to it that the law is enforced, or else repeal it. Let us have done with nullification.

When the president of the United States had signed the measures repealing the Volstead act people remembered his previous assurance that the "old saloon" never was to return. We now have not only the saloons, but barmaids and plenty of women customers.

When and if congress repeals the neutrality act the people may remember Mr. Roosevelt's previous assurance that our boys would not be sent to participate in foreign wars, but it will be too late to do anything about it.

Saloons returned because saloons seem to be the logical places to sell intoxicants. It seems to us that war will follow repeal of the neutrality act because war seems to be the local consequence of violent unneutrality.

Of Death and Taxes

Taxes in the United States will actually be higher in 1942 than in Britain. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce is authority for that, basing its figures on both the per capita tax burden and the percentage of national income taken. For some years Britain has been paying the heavier taxes, the U. S. Chamber admits, but beginning next year we Americans, long accustomed to having the biggest and best of everything, are going to have the biggest taxes, too.

Not only that. Our tax collectors also bear away the palm for ingenuity. Down in Muskogee, Oklahoma, the city fathers are spiritedly debating a proposed tax of 25 cents a month on all toilet seats.

All this is a bit breath-taking, perhaps will suggest new vistas for the ubiquitous tax-gatherer.

Congressman Allen

Allen expressed no fear of immediate invasion, but urged adequate defense and the preservation of the national resources, when he said:

"The President, in an effort to strengthen his appeal to Americans, predicted that Hitler might march down the streets of Kansas City, so great is his strength. In my conversations with military men in Washington, I have not found a single one who is of the same mind as the president and I do not fear that our land is to be invaded by German forces.

Paradoxical Situation
"President Roosevelt proposes freedom of the seas in a most astonishing manner, then orders a blockade of two-thirds of the sea lanes.

"The first three words of the preamble of our Constitution are: 'We, the people.' It doesn't read, 'We, Hitler,' or 'We, the King,' or 'I, President Roosevelt,' but just plain, 'We, the people.' Being the people, you must insist that your duly chosen representatives retain the powers of Congress as provided in the Constitution. Of late years too many powers have been delegated to the chief executive.

"Some high government officials insist that we change our form of government. They say that we should discard everything that has made us the greatest country on earth, that has given our farmers, our laborers, our young people the highest standard of living of any country on earth. They say we should substitute something else for our American system. They insist that congress delegate more power to the president in violation of the constitution. To you people I say every unAmerican doctrine proposed should be opposed. There is no middle of the road. There is no neutral ground. You are either for America and its wonderful institutions or you are against it.

Rearmament Essential
"The greatest problem facing this country is our rearmament program which will make us invulnerable from attack by any foreign foe. With few exceptions all Americans are supporting this program to the limit of their ability. All Americans are making great sacrifices and they will continue to do so gladly. Regardless of the cost, we must support it.

"Stephen Decatur said 'in our intercourse with foreign countries, may we ever be in the right—but our Country, right or wrong.' I subscribe to that but would add, in our intercourse with foreign countries let us insist that it be done the American way. Let each branch of government function in our foreign affairs as provided in the constitution. Instead of Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Willkie and a small minority determining our foreign policy, let the duly elected representatives of the majority of the people play their part. Until Mr. Roosevelt came into power, members of Congress were permitted to play their part unhindered.

"The right of freedom of speech also includes the right to remain silent. With the full knowledge that less than 20 per cent of the people of our nation are determining our foreign policy which will eventually lead to serious consequences, I have not, neither do I intend to remain silent. I say this with the full realization that Mr. Willkie recently stated that all non-interventionists were going to be purged next fall. Fortunately, Mr. Willkie speaks for only a few.

Politics Not Adjoined
"The president in one of his recent press conferences, attempted to impress his audience with the statement that the time had come when we should adjourn politics. He said that this is no time for partisanship and that we should be 100 per cent for unity. Believe me when I say that Mr. Roosevelt never has, nor never will adjourn politics. The smearing and condemnation he continually gives those who follow their right of freedom of speech is ample proof of that.

"The unity that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie talk about seems a unity behind a foreign policy that less than 20 per cent of our people favor. Millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money are being spent not only to prepare us physically and materially for war, but to prepare us mentally. Turn on the radio any hour of the day or night if you question that statement. Believe me when I say that regardless of how many unwarranted and dangerous utterances are made by high government officials which will eventually prove detrimental to us there never will be a 100 per cent unity behind a policy favored by such a small majority.

Men of Calibre
At the close of the program, Chairman Warner called attention to the high caliber of representation in Washington from this section in the personages of Congressman Allen and Senator C. Wayland Brooks.

"We need men of this fine caliber in Washington now more than ever before," he said, and added: "let us exert greater effort to place more of this type of representatives in Washington to assure the preservation of our American ideals of living."

During the evening several distinguished guests were presented and responded with brief remarks as follows: County Judge Grover

Hugh S. Johnson Writes From Capital During Mallon's Illness

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in Whole or Part Strictly Prohibited.)

New York, Oct. 3.—Here is a letter written by a man of prominence in one field of American endeavor to a man of prominence in quite a different field. I may say that it received a sympathetic — not to say enthusiastic response. Note that the letter was written two days before the Nova fight:

Joe Louis, Heavyweight Champion of the World.

"Greenwood Lake, N. Y., Sept. 27th, 1941.

"Dear Mr. Baruch:

"I have been reclassified by the selective draft board, and I expect to be called into the service of my country. This may cause me to retire from the ring.

"But before I retire, I want to put up one more fight—the best of my career—to help my people.

"The hardest fight I ever had was against prejudice and intolerance. My people know what I mean. They are all fighting their way up, and I want to open the door of opportunity a little wider for them. The fight I propose to make will not be staged in an arena against one particular opponent, but out in the open across the country. If I could get a 'gate' as big as I've ever seen in the Yankee Stadium and turn it over to the department of race relations of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America for the splendid work that department is doing on behalf of the Negro people and better relations with their white neighbors, I'd feel like a real champion.

"I propose start the 'gate' with my own contribution, and I want you to subscribe for a box, a ring, a side seat or other reservation. This is one purse which does not have to be shared with promoters or managers. Every cent will be used to better the condition of my people and in creating better human relations in America.

"Will you co-operate by sending your cheque or money order, in any amount, payable to Frank H. Mann, treasurer, and mail it today? If you help me win this time, I'll feel that I've won the greatest fight of my life. Thank you. Sincerely yours,

(Signed) "JOE LOUIS"

I have no doubt from its context that this same letter went to many people and that Joe didn't actually compose the very appealing missive. To me that doesn't make any difference. Joe's conduct over the years in the most difficult kind of tests of courage, fortitude, sportsmanship and plain Americanism that could be given any man has made that letter possible and true. The very able phrasing wouldn't mean a thing without that and could not be made to mean a thing.

Joe Louis never squawked, boasted, lied, faked, dodged a fight nor tried to milk his popularity to his personal advantage. He lifted a sport that in the hands of some of his white brethren had threatened to become a racket into a cleaner and more respectable atmosphere. In other words, he is not merely an outstanding credit to "his people," as he calls them. He is an American asset. Nothing emphasizes that more than his eagerness to surrender his fabulous income and prospects and get into uniform as a private soldier.

By example, he has done something more in the hard way than could ever be done in years of preaching. He has taken race prejudice, as far as he is concerned at least, out of the fight game. Considering the emotional nature of that field, this seems incredible. But sitting in at his Nova battle it seemed to me that most sympathies were with the champion and this was strange, not merely because there is a natural wolf-pack tendency to wish to see the leader downed, but also because Lou Nova himself is far above the average type of white contender.

I don't know just what Joe plans as his "last fight and the best" but I hope and believe that it will have the widest possible support.

More Thanksgiving Turkeys in Sight; They'll Cost More

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Along with everything else, the tempting turkey that will be carved at this year's Thanksgiving feast probably will cost more than a year ago.

This is the good news poultry men, busy fattening a record crop of holiday birds, found today in a study of market statistics.

Market prices indicated the farmers' return might be about 22 per cent higher than a year ago. The trouble with this forecast, however, is that between now and the holiday, when the headmen go to work, anything can happen, and frequently does. Turkeys are expected to go to market earlier this year, with 54 per cent of the crop scheduled to move in November, or earlier, compared with 51 per cent last year. More than a third of the crop will go in December.

Average price received by farmers at mid-September was 17.5 cents a pound, or 3.2 cents more than a year earlier and 2 cents more than in mid-June this year. Dressed market prices here range from 21 cents for young toms to 23 1/2 for hens, wholesale, or about 3 cents higher than a year ago.

Latest government census figures indicated about 33,553,000 birds were on feed, or 0.3 per cent more than available for market a year ago, after accounting for loss of about a million head due to severe weather in November.

SOW ON FRIDAY; "WEEP" ON SATURDAY
Great oaks from little acorns grow...
If you reap, first must you sow...

An ag professor's coming up...
To take a shot at Cahill's cup...

Plant the seed; don't let it wither...
Guest-picking has him all a-dither...
Frost is on pumpkin, fodder in shock...
Football on hand, just around the block...

Vince Slothower teaches how to farm...
Thinks some egg-laying does no harm...

But adds: It's unwise to count your chicks...
Be equally cautious about twenty picks...

However, nothing fared is nothing done...
And what is living without some fun?...

Slothower heads the list of eight...
Others pick 'em at a future date...

Twenty football games in a basket...
What do ya want know? Just ask it...

By L. V. SLOTHOWER

What a spot! What a spot! The first guest picker of the season and an amateur at that! Oh well, can't score less than .000; so here goes:

Illinois vs. Miami—Illinois, under the very controversial coaching of Bob Zuppke should win his opening game in a breeze. It's the 1941 edition of the Fighting Illini which must do or die for Zup. Illinois 21; Miami 6.

Indiana vs. Notre Dame—With Frank Leahy out to make his mark as a Notre Dame coach and Bertelli throwing 'em high wide and handsome, it should end 42 to 7 in favor of the (Bertelli, Juzwik, Brutz, Ziemba, Kovath)?? Irish.

Michigan vs. Iowa—Both teams showed plenty of strength last week. Looks like one of the real battles of the week end. Michigan, with a veteran line, and plenty of powerful plunging backs, should come out on the long end of a 14 to 7 score. P. S. I hope I'm wrong and that our local boy, Gerald Ankeny, is in there to upset the dope.

Wisconsin vs. Marquette—Another local boy, Don Miller, and teammates should have a glorious afternoon. The Badgers should claw 'em down to the tune of 28 to 13.

Ohio State vs. Southern California—In last week's test neither team showed too much strength. With Southern California at home and Ohio riding the rails all the way—condition may tell. Incidentally, we shall see how successfully Coach Paul Brown can use his high school experience in big time coaching. Ohio State 13; Southern California 12.

Northwestern vs. Kansas State—This is Bill DeCorrevont's year! Northwestern, as yet untested, should put one of the best balanced teams on the field this year that any of the Mid-West schools have to offer. Northwestern all the way, 28 to 6.

Purdue vs. Pittsburgh—Purdue's seniors, out to revenge last week's humiliation by Vanderbilt should take Pittsburgh 14 to 7.

Stanford vs. U. C. L. A.—This "Dixon-Sterling" feud should be in Stanford's favor this year, but like all such "naturals", it may upset the dope bucket. Stanford 19; U. C. L. A. 12.

Nebraska vs. Iowa State—While Iowa State scored three touchdowns last week, she still will have too much on her hands Saturday. Cornhuskers 21; Iowa State 7.

Alabama vs. Mississippi State—Any team that scores 47 points as did Alabama last week, is good enough for me. Alabama 12; Mississippi State 7.

Brown vs. Columbia—This is a bad one! How does Brown 14, Columbia 13 sound?

Colgate vs. Penn State—I'll take Colgate on the basis of her 66 to 0 victory last week. Colgate 21, Penn State 14.

Cornell vs. Syracuse—The dope books forecast a victory for Syracuse. I'll string along with Syracuse 21, Cornell 7.

Harvard vs. Pennsylvania—Both untested so I'll take a shot in the dark. Harvard 13, Pennsylvania 7.

Navy vs. West Virginia—A blitzkrieg for Navy! Score: Navy 35; West Virginia 12.

Drake vs. Grinnell—Shades of Bob Underwood!! Hate to admit this to Bob, but I pick Drake to hand Grinnell a 21 to 7 drubbing.

Tennessee vs. Duke—Despite the support of all the conscripts, it looks like Duke 21, Tennessee 13.

Fordham vs. Southern Methodist—Another blind one. Southern Methodist 14; Fordham 12.

Georgia Tech vs. Chattanooga—The Ramblin' Wrecks to the tune of 28 to 6.

Tulane vs. Auburn—Tulane to repeat this week—17 to 14.

POLITICS AND...

Politics was not the only subject to be discussed at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple last evening. The lobby three old timers grouped for a brief discussion of the World Series. The trio, all former baseball celebrities picked flaws in World Series plays but would not name the series winner. Judge William E. Fulton of Sycamore, second baseman for the championship University of Illinois team in the Big Ten conference of some years back; "Red" Gardner of Lyndon, former hard hitting member of the Kansas City Blues, American Association team and Ward Miller, former Cub, and member of other National League teams, grouped briefly to exchange ideas while many others standing around listened attentively.

POTTER DAY SLUGGERS

Going into the last baseball game of the season, that assignment at Mt. Morris Sunday afternoon, the Knacks have a team batting average of .244 in 14 games played this season. Leading the local sluggers is Worth Wadmler with .341. The Knacks face Nelson Potter of the International League on the mound for the locals. Their batting averages are:

PLEDGES FRATERNITY

BATTLE CRY IS SOUNDED: DIXON GOES TO DEKALB

Rock River and North Central Conferences Work Nightshift

GAMES TONIGHT

Dixon at DeKalb*
Mendota at Sterling*
Belvidere at Princeton*
Oregon at Polo*
Amboy at Mt. Morris*
Morrison at Rock Falls*
Rochelle at Stockton

That current ditty of the airwaves, "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire", was not intended for the theme song of fiddle-playing Nero or the gridmen of Dixon and the neighborhood high schools.

Tonight as the North Central conference lames into action—every last mother's son is out to do his part in burning up the grid-irons in the North Central conference.

Dixon gridmen awoke this morning to a wet and soggy world, but with such fire of enthusiasm that they hope to burn the DeKalb gridiron to a crisp tonight. It will be the first loop game for either squad—and there are many in random who believe that the winner of tonight's game may be crowned the conference champions of 1941.

From DeKalb comes the report today that the team and school spirit is at its highest peak in many seasons and the crowd is expected to hit a new season high in spite of the damp weather.

Lineups for both the varsity and underclassmen game were announced last night and no last-minute changes were reported from either camp. The sophomore game is scheduled to begin at 6:30 with the varsity game to follow.

Mendota at Sterling

One other North Central conference game draws the attention of the fans in this neck of the woods. It's the Mendota game at Sterling. Prospects for a Sterling victory looked as gloomy as this morning's skies. To date the Scheidmen have lost to Rock Falls (25 to 7) and to Sterling Community (7 to 0). Mendota, on the other hand, goes into the first conference game with two wins to date—a 19 to 0 triumph over Morris and a 37 to 0 victory over Dupue.

Princeton, the fifth conference member, plays Belvidere (former league participant) on the home gridiron. Belvidere has lost three games to date (Geneva, Harlem and East Rockford) while Princeton has spilled Walnut and Dupue lost to Kewanee.

Tonight marks the second week of conference action for the Rock River circuit with three games on tap.

Oregon which defeated Dixon here in the opener and then followed up with triumphs over Stockton and Mt. Morris, seeks to keep the slate clean in a game at Polo. To date the Polo gridmen have tied Mt. Carroll (6 to 6) and lost to Rochelle, 32 to 0, last week end.

Amboy, coming up fast this year and holding the powerful Rock Falls team to minimum scoring last week, goes to Mt. Morris tonight. The Irish 'von their opener with a 7 to 6 victory over the Freeport "B" team and holds promise of being one of the major clubs in the circuit this season. Mt. Morris has lost to Savanna (13 to 0) and to Oregon (13 to 7).

Morrison at Rock Falls
In the third conference game Morrison goes to Rock Falls to meet the defending champions who have one of the strongest teams in this section of the state. Rock Falls has counted Sterling, Pekin and Amboy as its victims while Morrison last week bowed to Lyons, Ia., 19 to 0.

Rochelle, seventh member of the loop, draws a non-conference assignment in the game at Stockton. The Hubs will be seeking their second victory in the season after defeating Polo last week and bowing to DeKalb, 19 to 0 in the opener.

TABLE TENNIS TALK

Lloyd Phelps today announced the complete list of six teams which will open the table tennis league season Oct. 14 at the Elks club. The teams and their captains are: Plovman (Joe Hall), Coverts (Lyle Melvin), Hey Bros. (Jim Hey), Edward Vaile Clothiers (Ben Roe), Myers Royal Blue (David Crawford), Knacks (Ward Smith). Three more players have been added to the entry list for the blind boys tournament next Tuesday night. They are Eustace Shaw, Warren Badger and Red Flanagan.

WANTA RIDE?

If any of you guys want a ride to Mt. Morris Sunday for Nelson Potter Day Knacks vs. Mt. Morris Cardinals, you can go down to Walter Knack's around about 12:30 you might be able to get a lift. Any fellows who have room for passengers are also asked to meet there at the same time.

BOWLING DISSA AND DATTIA

Included among the repeat scores at the Dixon recreation bowling alleys last night were those of Bill Shuck who had 197 twice, Jimmy Noakes counted 150 twice and Tony Bubrick had 145 and 145. O. Legore was the most consistent bowler of the Commercial league session with 143-144-140. John Cahill was missing last night—has a bad code in da head... and a REAL bowler took his place, John Smith. In the Chauffeurs and Helpers league Koepke almost had three identical scores of 137-136-136 and Wolf who was on the same pair of alleys had 82-83-81. That's being consistent—no like some fellows we know who shoot a silly combination of 92-140-138.

BIG TIME STUFF

The Peru Merchants with a big time battery will meet the Mar-selles team in a game Sunday afternoon at Washington Park (La-Salle) at 12:30 Central Standard Time. Cy Johnson of the Philadelphia National League club will hurl for the visitors and several minor league players are expected in the lineups of each team.

TWO QUINTETS SET PACE FOR MIDNIGHT LOOP

Where there were three teams tied for the lead in the Chauffeurs & Helpers Union bowling league, there are now just two. Hey Bros. and Distilled Water Ice company each won three games in the nightshift league at the Dixon Recreation to maintain their top spot.

The only league record broken last night was that for high team game when the Prince Ice Cream team rolled 991 in the second game.

The Hey Bros. team defeated the Rock Island Transfer in three games with D. Hey leading the winners with a 463 series and Biggers counting 400 for the losers.

Distilled Water Ice swept the series from the Dohrn Transfer and leading the winners was Conaway with 473. Stonesifer topped the losers with 411.

Keeshin Motors won two games from Walter Knacks. Leading the Motors was Naylor with a 500 series and Lawson topped the Knacks with 471.

Prince Ice Cream defeated Old American in two games as Utter counted 487 for the winners and A. Wolfe rolled 550 for the losers.

WORLD SERIES IS CERTAIN TO BE A DINGER—MAYBE GOING LIMIT

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The third World Series game between the Yankees and Dodgers was postponed today by Commissioner Landis after a steady rain had left the field unplayable.

Brooklyn, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Prospects of the Dodgers and Yankees meeting in their third World Series game at Ebbets Field grew doubtful today when the rain, that started early this morning, continued to fall steadily.

At 8 a. m. a heavy shower broke over the field, where fewer than 500 persons waited in line at the bleacher gates. After letting up somewhat the rain started coming down in a steady drizzle an hour later. The skies remained heavily overcast. The forecast for this afternoon was for occasional showers.

There was no doubt in anyone's mind today that this was to be a grimly-fought World Series, after all, as the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers moved to Ebbets Field to continue the battle for gold and baseball glory.

The whole picture changed abruptly yesterday when Whitlow Wyatt, warming slowly to his task, the slugging Yankees on their collective nogginns for the last five innings and pitched the scrapping Dodgers to a 3 to 2 victory at Yankee Stadium, squaring the series.

Until Wyatt came through for the National League champions, things had looked mighty dark for them. The manner in which the Yankees had bounced the bums around in the opening contest brought visions of another four-game sweep for the Bombers, and Brooklyn was dispirited. But Wyatt's brilliant performance changed all that. It's going to be a dinger before it's finished—maybe seven games, the limit.

Both managers named alternative pitching choices for today's struggle in the heart of Flatbush. Manager Leo Durocher of the revived Dodgers was torn between Kirby Higbe, the young speedballer, who won 22 games for him this year, and fat Freddy Fitzsimmons, the veteran with the knuckle ball that swoops and dances. Fitz was supposed to have the inside track, provided his arm felt up to a nine-inning chore.

Loss of Effectiveness
Disappointed at Spud Chandler's sudden loss of effectiveness in yesterday's tussle after he had pitched four nearly-perfect innings, Joe McCarthy of the Yankees was in a state of indecision whether to use Marius Russo, the southpaw, or Alton Donald, a right-hander with fine control. Russo was thought more likely to get the call if he could get a rebellious stomach back on the reservation by game time.

Only one thing was absolutely certain about today's contest, or about the next three, for that matter. The crowd was going to look small after the two huge gatherings in the stadium. Where more than 68,000 saw the opener and 66,248 turned out yesterday, only about 34,000 can be sandwiched into the Dodgers' emporium.

There might be some unscheduled excitement in Brooklyn, too, if the two clubs continue to fly into each other with the violence they have shown so far and the games remain as tense and close. For two days now they have been acting like blocking backs on the basepaths. There's likely to be a blow-up between the players if it continues, and the Brooklyn fans have been known to take a personal interest in any scraps involving their heroes. Boy, my battle bowler.

Fine Pitching in Pinches
While Wyatt's superlative pitching in the pinches stood out like a red nose in yesterday's game, it was almost equally easy to spot the Yankee who did most to make the Dodgers' victory possible. It was little Phil Rizzuto,

Woman's Club

First meetings of the season in most organizations are always special events, and since the Mount Morris Woman's Club is no exception, come 7:30 next Monday evening and a large number of its members will be gathered at the M. C. Small home on West Hill street for the October meeting, the first of the 1941-42 year.

It will also be the first time in a number of years that the club has met in members' homes. To afford a central meeting place, for several years the group met in the high school auditorium and assembly room. Then last year one of the church's parlors was used, but now it is felt that a more cozy atmosphere can be obtained in meetings held in the homes.

To get everyone ready for a season of varied activity, ready to meet the challenges of the district, state and federal club headquarters, most of next Monday night's meeting will be devoted to brief summaries of the work accomplished in the various departments of the club. These will be given by the chairmen of the departments who will outline their plans for the year in discussing the possibilities of their own particular branches. Heads of the departments of work who will appear on the program include Mrs. Harold Marcott, American Citizenship; Mrs. Donald Clark, American Home; Mrs. Myron Wheldon, British War Relief; Mrs. T. J. Wilson, Conservation; Mrs. Harold Hoff, Education; Mrs. Leon Schaar, Gardens; Mrs. Elita Rittenhouse, Illinois Federation News; Mrs. M. C. Small, Indian Welfare; Mrs. Elmer Paul, Juniors; Mrs. Ed Rolives, Law Observance; Mrs. Donovan Mills, Music; Mrs. Luce Meeker, Public Health and Mrs. Robert Allen, radio.

In addition to this, Mrs. Elmer Snowberger, a charter member of the local club and also one of its present directors, will give a short history of the club. This will be followed by a reception for teachers in the local schools.

Miss Kathleen Peugh, treasurer, will be at the meeting early in order to receive the dues which are payable now and to distribute the new program. Officers and all committee and departmental chairmen will meet at 7 o'clock for their monthly board meeting. They have voted to do this aside a separate night for this purpose.

Lee Co. Dairymen Asked to Increase Output 5.1 Per Cent

Food - for - Defense Committee Establishes Quotas for State

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 3—(AP)—Illinois farmers were given a broad picture today of the crop production increases expected from them during 1942 under the agriculture department's food-for-defense campaign.

Production goals, set up on a county-by-county basis, have been accepted by the newly organized state Agriculture Defense Board on milk cows, milk production, eggs, hogs, cattle and calves, sheep, rye, soy beans, hay, oats and barley.

Production boosts for nearly all crops will be sought in line with the agriculture department's program to seek increases in commodities for which domestic demand has soared and those needed under lend-lease plans.

Quotas will be given county defense boards and local AAA committees will do the contact work with farmers, explaining the program.

Chairman Lee M. Gentry said after the defense board's first meeting yesterday that while the board "hopes each county will reach its goal," the quotas were not mandatory.

5 Counties Bear Brunt

The board, envisioning an average increase of 4.1 per cent in the volume of milk production, urged the state's cow population be upped only 1.5 per cent, to be shared by all counties. The bulk of Illinois' volume increase will be borne by five counties in the state's creamery and cheese factory area—Carroll, Lee, Rock Island, Whiteside and Winnebago. They were asked for a 5.1 per cent boost. Increases of 4.5 per cent were sought from Clinton, Madison and St. Clair counties.

A one-fifth acreage increase for soy beans was requested from Hancock and McDonough counties, while Adams, Fulton and Warren counties were asked for hikes of 19 per cent. Most central Illinois counties were urged to jump production 15 per cent above the state average. Nine per cent reductions in oats averages of 28 counties were requested in order to make room for more soy beans. Reduced oats acreage for the state was fixed at 14 per cent of 1941's crop.

7 Per Cent Eggs

A projected 7 per cent increase

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 3—(AP)—From boys with gunny sacks trudging along country roads and from nutting parties exploring timberland along the Mississippi river bottoms comes news that this is one of the best years for hickory nuts.

Rains and some high winds have sent big hickory nuts showering down. Only a sharp frost is needed to unload the trees. Quincy markets have been flooded with calls offering the nuts for sale.

Walnuts, presumably not so plentiful, will be loosened on the trees with the first frost.

Obituary
Mrs. Carrie Kuhn, Grand Rapids, Mich., a former Mendota resident, died in her home there Tuesday.

Survivors are a brother, John Newport, Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, Grand Rapids.

Funeral services were held in the Merritt funeral home, Mendota, Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. John A. Pasture, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. Burial was made in Restland cemetery.

in 1942 egg production—deemed necessary for 176,636,000 dozens—will be shared equally by all counties. Hog marketings are expected to run higher by 5 per cent in several northern and central counties, with 2 per cent advances expected of most of the southern section.

The board would like to see cattle marketings hiked 7 per cent over 1941 throughout the state. Central counties were asked for a 9 per cent raise.

Central and south central counties were assigned the heaviest acreages needed to bring barley seedings up from 179,000 to 255,000. Virtually all counties would be affected in an increase of 23,000 acres seeded to rye. Corn acreages, in line with AAA allotments, are expected to be up slightly from 1941. The 1943 (correct) wheat goal was set at 1,494,000 acres, compared with an estimated 1,676,214 acres estimated to be seeded for the 1942 harvest.

Gentry added that the board, in addition to its quota adoption, also mapped plans for alleviating any possible farm labor shortages in Illinois.

Labor Challenged by Farm Federation Head to Take Parity Status

Washington, Oct. 3—(AP)—Government control of wages as well as prices to check inflation is advocated by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Testifying before the house banking and currency committee this week, O'Neal urged prompt enactment of price control legislation because "unless congress acts, inflationary forces are being set in motion which will prove disastrous to all economic groups."

He emphatically opposed "complete regimentation of our economy" but urged a recognition of the parity principle "to preserve a fair balance between farm prices, industrial prices and wages". (Parity is a goal established by the agricultural department designed to give farm income the same purchasing power in terms of non-agricultural products that it had in pre-World War years.)

In his testimony O'Neal said that farmers "challenge labor to meet this situation on the same basis as the American farmer—with a ceiling on parity". The administration's price control bill which the committee is considering specifies that any ceiling placed on farm prices shall not exceed 110 per cent of parity.

Justice Jackson Urged "Practical" Efforts for Peace

Indianapolis, Oct. 3—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court urges "practical measures" after the war to insure peace and lighten "the crushing burden of armaments".

He told the American Bar Association last night President Roosevelt's and Prime Minister Winston Churchill's "Atlantic Charter" promised aid to all such measures.

"At the end of this war," he declared, "we must either throw the full weight of American influence to the support of an international order based on law, or we must outstrip the world in naval and air and perhaps in military force".

Walter P. Armstrong, 57, of Memphis, Yale classmate of Justice Stanley Reed, was unopposed for election as president today as the association's five-day 64th annual convention approached its close.

Others Unopposed

Secretary Harry S. Knight of Sunbury, Pa., and Treasurer John H. Voorhees of Sioux Falls, S. D., seeking re-election, and Guy R. Crump of Los Angeles, candidate for chairman of the house of delegates, also were unopposed.

Detroit was the only bidder for the 1942 convention city to be chosen by the board of governors. Jackson said the present competition in armaments "if continued, threatens the financial and social stability of free governments".

"Vast standing military establishments and the interests that thrive on them and the state of mind they engender are no more compatible with liberty in America than they have been in Europe," he said.

"Five years of the sort of thing the world now witnesses and 20 centuries of civilization will not be worth a tinker's dam".

Walter Raycroft Mee, Noted Churchman, Dies

Chicago, Oct. 3—(AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Walter Raycroft Mee, executive secretary of the Chicago Church Federation for the last quarter century. He died last night, apparently of a heart ailment, in a loop theatre.

Among the several other church positions he had held was the presidency of the Illinois Christian Endeavor Union, from 1912 to 1915.

Survivors include the widow and two brothers.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 3.—(The Special News Service)—The World Series starts today . . . Except for the cash involved, you can toss out these two games at the Yankee Stadium . . . The real things that everybody has been looking forward to are just getting under way now that the Dodger fans are back in their native habitat. . . The Bums didn't do so badly yesterday after they got going. . . The Yankee fans made quite a noise when DiMaggio came up with two aboard in the first but they were completely outdone by the enemy after Joe hit into a double play. . . When Durocher let out his first visible blast at the umpires in the seventh, the customers let out a bellow that showed they really had come to see. . . A city cop and a stadium officer put on a great race for a foul that rolled down a runway leading from the upper stands, only to see an usher step out at the other end and field it without hurrying. . . They should have taken some lessons in footwork from the two kids that jumped the wall just as Walker caught the last fly and overhauled Dixie before he reached the infield.

Stadium Shadows

The Yanks don't overlook a single strategic move. . . They sent the subs out for early batting practice and held the regulars back to do their blasting when the Dodgers were on hand to see it. . . The Brooklyn club took over a whole floor of a Manhattan hotel although they have only 23 players. The other rooms are for the families, not including Camilli's five children. . . Ford Frick, the National League president, wasn't a bit discouraged over the first game. . . "They didn't take a bad beating," he insisted, "and they were cursing themselves for their mistakes. They aren't a bit afraid of the Yanks." . . It took only five innings to show he was right. . . Frick agreed with Secretary John McDonald of the Dodgers that they were more anxious to win the pennant than they are about the World Series. . . "Why," said McDonald, "if they'd lost a tough one like that late in the season, they would have ripped the lockers out of the dressing room." . . Joe McCarthy, with a broad grin, insisted "I'm not worried—not right now."

Pointed Postmarks

Several correspondents who got only a distant view of the Louisville fight are protesting that Referee Donovan shouldn't have stopped it with only a second to go in the sixth. . . From where we sat, it looked to be high time, and, of course, Donovan wasn't holding a watch. . . Some of the wisest men in the fight business have said that one second might have meant death or serious injury to Nova if Louis had smashed him again.

BIG TEN TEAMS TEST STRENGTH

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Minnesota's powerhouse, generating steam for another rush toward the Big Ten football title, will sit this weekend out and generously allow its lower-ranked rivals to dominate the headlines for a change. The Gophers, triumphant over Washington a week ago, will open their title defense against Illinois next week. Meanwhile, Michigan's sturdy eleven, which never could win the championship with Tom Harmon, will try for the laurels without him. The Wolverines will play host to Iowa in the first conference game while six other Big Ten

Nursery School News

Written by Miss Mabel Entorf, head teacher.

George Kiefer hasn't forgotten the nursery school children like candy. He sent us large bars of delicious chocolate-covered candy. We all said we never saw such large candy bars. We sliced and served it as dessert for dinner. Thank you, George. We also thank Mayor C. T. Schuette for having John Allen mow our lawn. The grass has grown so much and it didn't look very nice but John certainly did good work and we appreciate it.

We feel we are very fortunate in having William Glenn assigned as our gardener. Mr. Glenn has children and grandchildren, so he knows the ways of little ones and I know we will enjoy having Mr. Glenn as one of our family.

Donnie Pfahler of Wilmette spent Tuesday with us. Just a year ago he spent a day with us and his mother, the former Marie McIntyre said he has never stopped talking about the good time he had. We always like to hear nice things about our school.

We are glad Mrs. McCaffery is back to school and is feeling fine again.

Mrs. Nina Spangler and sons Gordon and Kenneth Eastman and Mrs. Maude Ball were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Pankhurst.

The house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cox on North Jones avenue is being given a coat of paint.

Thirty Amboy Townsendsites went to Fairbury for the homecoming.

Housekeepers who really care use our attractive colored paper for the pantry shelves and bureau drawers. The colors are canary, green, pink, blue, white. In rolls, 10c to 50c.—B. F. Shaw Printing Company.
